

Robnor Adhesive Range

Robnor Resins are one of the leading specialist formulators of epoxy and polyurethane resin systems for the Marine, Automotive, Aerospace, Defence, Civil Engineering, Telecommunication Giftware, Transport and OEM Industries.

Robnor structural adhesives are now available from John Burn. The range includes the following products:

- EL420AR - PU Adhesive - Water white clarity, flexible, tough, abrasion resistant & fast curing
- PX192H - Epoxy Adhesive - Rigid, excellent gap filling properties & cures in damp conditions
- PX681C - Epoxy Adhesive - General purpose, long pot life, high flow & chemical resistant
- PX628H - Epoxy Adhesive - General purpose, long pot life, good gap filling properties & chemical resistant
- PX628HP - Epoxy Adhesive - High mechanical properties, high chemical resistance, high heat resistance & excellent gap filling properties
- PX774D - Epoxy Adhesive - High toughness, rubber adhesive, high impact strength & flexibility
- PX800CS - Epoxy Adhesive - Rapid repair, rigid, tough, fast cure & chemical resistant

Please see Robnor comparison charts for more specific data and suitability for bonding certain substrates.

For more product information please contact
+44 (0) 121 508 4144

Over the past 100 years John Burn has continued to develop its expertise in all areas of design innovation and manufacturing processes. We are proud of our reputation as an efficient, reliable and customer friendly company.

Our dedicated approach to providing excellent customer service and a top quality product range has helped us build strong relationships with our customers, many of whom now consider John Burn as a significant business partner.

Working closely with our customers, by providing a comprehensive technical support team, we have assisted them to find effective solutions to their many diverse project and material requirements.

